JUNIOR CLASS

MacMURRAY COLLEGE, Jacksonville, Illinois

Foreword

Have you ever paused a moment some night on our library steps to watch the campus, ablaze with light; and have you ever appreciated the true significance of the phrase ablaze with light? In the world today there are many people for whom the word light has lost all shades of meaning leading to happy thoughts—those people swallowed up by the war's blackout. And have you then turned toward the library and considered what a rare privilege it is to be permitted to study there? Today many students have exchanged books for guns and defense tools, lives for the sake of ideals.

Because we feel that MacMurray is representative of the colleges in this country that are keeping the light of our ideals burning, may we now show you some of the individual lights which burn within the arc of this higher lamp of learning?

PRESIDENT AND MRS. McCLELLAND

Without President and Mrs. C. P. McClelland, MacMurray would lack not only an able administrator and a charming hostess, but also, the spirit which first instigated the friendliness for which the campus is noted. On Dr. "Mac's" face there are smile wrinkles worn from his many cheery greetings to others. From Mrs. "Mac's" eye shines a friendly interest in each individual girl on campus.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

MR. GIBSON

In addition to the pressing duties which he executes as Director of Admissions and of Public Relations, Mr. Harold E. Gibson also finds time to act as adviser to the college newspaper and the annual.

MISS SOWERS

Although she is new in her position as Business Manager, Miss Helen Sowers has nonetheless proved herself fully capable of handling the pressing financial problems of the college in wartime.

DEAN MARY E. BAIRD

DEAN ROMA N. HAWKINS

DEAN WENDELL S. DYSINGER

OUR DEANS

MacMurray claims three very excellent administrators as her deans. Dr. Wendell S. Dysinger, Dean of the College, offers friendly guidance to all students perplexed by the problem of choosing a vocation and the courses with which to prepare for it. Miss Mary E. Baird, Dean of Students, gives much of her time and herself in service to the college as director of residence, registrar and adviser of the sophomore class. Known to all students as a gracious lady ever concerned with maintaining a proper equilibrium between social functions and schoolwork, Mrs. Roma N. Hawkins, Dean of Students, also serves as director of placement for MacMurray graduates.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

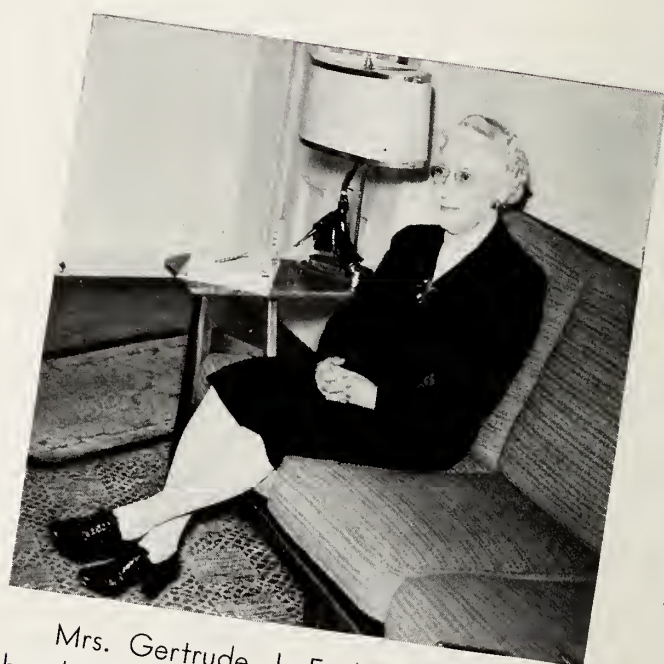

Although MacMurray's Graduate School was established but three years ago, each of these years has heralded the addition of a new field of concentration for the students. The first degree awarded was that of M.A. with a psychology major. At the present time students may also work for an M.Ed. with a major in physical education and an M.M. with concentrations in either music education or music literature. Dr. Henry M. Halverson is the director of the graduate school and is assisted in psychology by Dr. Wendell Dysinger, in physical education by Dr. Elizabeth Rearick, and in music by Mr. Joseph Cleeland.

The graduate students have a house on campus all their own where they live with their housemother, Mrs. Frances E. Bostwick. Those students seeking their M.A. in psychology are Arline Durkin, Phyllis Martin, and Jean Wilson. The girls writing for their M.Ed. degree are Patricia Heffer, Jean Smith, and Mrs. Peggy Mosby. Bonnie Ruth Kent is studying for her M.M. degree.

Lovely Ann Rutledge Hall is home to the Seniors.

OUR LAST YEAR AT MAC

Mrs. Gertrude J. Funk is the resident head in Ann Rutledge Hall.

SENIORS

....."Underneath the silvery beams of dear old mammy moon".....the strains of this traditional senior song floated across campus as the seniors first donned their academic robes on recognition day.....maintained another tradition and held weekly senior breakfasts with Helen Flesor making arrangements.....journeyed to St. Louis on Senior Cut Day, under June Haver's chairmanship.....were At Home on October 28 with their co-chairmen, Peg Brundage and Barbara Jean Veder.....elected Alice Gould a "Lovely Lady" and helped Tush Pehlman with preparations for the regal setting at the Senior Ball.....awakened underclassmen early Thanksgiving morning with the phrase—"We gather together", as Lue Sommer directed this serenade through the dorm halls.....presented their class project under the direction of Margrette Lyman, Lystie Lyster, and Alice Godard.....trustingly gave leadership responsibilities to the juniors.....bade farewell to their adviser, Professor Dorothy Burrows.....and wistfully stood in a friendship circle at Commencement to sing, "MacMurray, we hold thee, within us enfold thee, and thy name we bless."

CLASS

J U N I O R S

.....Spotlighting now the juniors, we see a year full of activities. Aware of the honor in being the Centennial Class, they set their goal high and constantly strived to attain it.

.....The juniors entertained the freshmen at an open house, planned by Louise Uhl, and treated them on initiation night, under Cis Gilroy's direction.....serenaded when led by Phyl Cooper and Dawn Bishop.....enjoyed weekly dorm coffees, supervised by Jeanne Valentine and Eileen Olson.....elected Pat Lenahan chairman of their Prom and paid homage to the princess, Beatrice Person, and her attendants, Joan Craig and Virginia Bliss.....edited the Illiwoco under the guidance of Editor Rosanna Shanks and Business Manager Eileen Olson.....assisted in Freshman Recognition.....published the student directory with Jane Clements as general chairman.....presented the class project, "What's Up", Phyllis Smith directing.....chose Barbara Parkinson and Doris Green to formulate plans for the May Day song contest and lantern ceremony.....decorated for baccalaureate and commencement.....were grateful for the guidance of Miss Mary Johnston and the officers.....anticipated the senior year when they assume leadership, and graduate as the Centennial Class.

S O P H O M O R E S

..... We now look at the sophomores, two hundred strong, and a class hard to keep out of the klieg lights. Inspired by their capable officers and their enthusiastic adviser, Miss Mary E. Baird, the Class of '47 worked to accumulate funds for their senior class gift to the college.

..... The sophomores promoted friendliness and social relaxation at their informal coffees held in Harker Hall..... elected Barb Cross to work out details of Freshman Initiation..... supported Jody Ellis and the Blacklist Committee in handing out penalties to the wayward freshmen..... enjoyed the excitement of the upperclass societies' "rushing"..... chose Midge Cornelius to plan Senior Recognition..... entertained their sister class at a very special senior-sophomore picnic..... made headlines with their class project, "It's a Woman's World", written by Norman Miller, Margaret Sloan, and Nancy Klaas, and directed by Rosemary Fleming..... elected Toni Duncan and Joan Berg co-chairmen of the class dance..... followed their goal—"the memory of deeds well done".

..... Under the guiding lights of the Brown Book and the sophomore counselors, freshmen became a vital part of Mac. They presented clever skits on initiation night.....tossed worn, frayed green ribbons into a raging bonfire, with a tear in their eyes and a beautiful song written by Ruth Riley and Jo Cahill on their lips..... decorated our Thanksgiving dinner tables with fruit-filled cornucopias under Libby Rowe's chairmanship..... assisted Alice Hamburg in planning the formal dinner in McClelland Hall for Junior Recognition..... thrilled their Sister Class with a beautiful serenade at bedtime directed by Emmie Lou Jenkins..... attended suppers at President and Mrs. "Mac's" home..... enjoyed a Christmas party in the Social Room, which was given by their adviser, Mrs. Ann McCloskey..... cooperated with Jo Cahill in presenting "Through the Years", the class project..... closed their calendar with a frolic..... eagerly looked toward their sophomore year and the chance to help and harass the new freshmen.

Cap and Gown

The porch of Old Main Hall is annually the site of a traditional ceremony. After the Last Chapel of May, 1944, students gathered to watch again the choosing of the new Cap and Gown members. Those Juniors who received the rose of friendship, the honor caps, and a kiss from the senior members were Belle Wakeman, Carolyn Carver, Theodora Weers, and Jane Frank. "Teedo", with the Freshman class and Main Hall presidencies behind her, was anticipating her new office as SGA president; and Janie Frank—she is Belles Lettres president, was business manager of the Illiwoco, and is an honor student; Belle, prominent in the Little Theater activities, faced a term as Senior Class president; Carolyn was our YWCA president-elect.

Miss Betty Stanford

The Conlee-Kent Cup

Those who know Betty Stanford are sincerely proud that the Conlee-Kent Memorial Cup is hers for the year 1944-45. Chosen to receive this award because she seemed best to exemplify the college motto of "Knowledge, Faith, and Service", Betty is valued also on campus for her charming personality. In line with two of her major interests—music and art—she is a member of the choir and is majoring in art with a yen towards a career as a commercial illustrator in advertising. IRC also receives much of Betty's time, for she is president of the campus group. When a freshman, Betty was class prexy and sang with Madrigal. When she became a sophomore, SOS counseling and pledging Theta Sigma claimed her time.

Theodora Weers, President.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Community life requires a coordinating unit, and it is in such a capacity that the Student Government Association functions. Not a static government, but one changing and conforming to campus needs, it has attempted this year to reorganize and re-evaluate the assembly programs, and in cooperation with the YWCA and the AA to attain a more consolidated unit in function. Throughout the year an appeal has been made to the individual in order to make the honor code the rule of every student. Theodora Weers, president this year, was assisted by Judicial Director Lue Sommer and Vice-President Jean Barto. Virginia Bliss served as secretary, and Bea Person as treasurer; Harriet Perbix was house president of Main Hall and Kathleen Crow, of Harker. Celeste Quick acted as the representative of the campus houses, while Irma Rinker and Jane Olonder represented the freshman class.

'45 ILLIWOCO

And now it is finished. After innumerable hours of concentrated work and planning, the staff of the 1945 Illiwoco presents you with these highlights of the year as a tangible foundation for your memories. It is the staff's sincere hope that the volume will meet with your approval. Mr. Harold E. Gibson, Director of Admissions, has served as adviser, and Rosanna Shanks was editor-in-chief of the publication. Assisting her were Margaret Francisca, assistant editor; Maurine Jackson, copy editor; Rosemary Niemann, literary editor; Gloria Underwood, index editor; Virginia Smith, sports editor; Patricia Lanahan, art editor; Jo Ann Aufdenkamp and Virginia Ringhausen, photographers; Phyllis Smith, captions editor; and Barbara Brown, Georgiana Buck, and Jeanne Valentine, picture editors. Musabelle Coons, Janet Browning, Martha-jean Durian, and Barbara Parkinson assisted in preparing the copy.

BUSINESS STAFF

"Pennywise and pennywatchers" are the business staff, whose task it was to care for the financial obligations incurred in the compiling and printing of the 1945 Illiwooco. Sources of income for the project were student and faculty subscriptions, advertising sold to local merchants, and receipts from school organizations. This money was used by both the editorial and business staff members to meet the expenses concurrent with publishing the yearbook. Eileen Olson, business manager, and Marjorie Danforth, her assistant, have been aided in their task by Vivian Sackrison and Margarite Zickos, advertising manager and assistant; Ruth Chin and Shirley Bacher, art manager and assistant; and Marthajeon Durian and Lee Stinson, circulation manager and assistant.

GREETINGS

Our newspaper has set forth as its policy the reflection of the interests and opinions of the students by means of an accurate account of campus activities. Edited by Alice Godard and Alice Gould for the first and second semesters respectively, the Greetings has rolled off the presses each Saturday true to its policy and despite war-time printing difficulties. Each Monday noon members of the editorial staff gathered in the campus Greetings office to receive the forthcoming week's assignments and to review and criticize the previous week's paper.

To introduce to the student body the purposes and platforms of the major parties in last fall's national election, the Greetings staged a political rally on November 1. Featured on the program were two local speakers—Carl Robinson and Victor Sheppard. Further alive to real-life responsibilities, the newspaper actively supported the spring membership drive of the MacMurray Red Cross. On October 4, Alice Godard, Margrette Lyman, Mary Frances Lyster, Roberta Claffy and Maurine Jackson attended the conference of the ICPA in Peoria, at which they met with other college journalists to discuss common problems and the essentials comprising a good publication. Social events of the year included sponsorship of an all-campus dance—the Banner Ball, a theater party and chili supper, and a breakfast at the Dunlap for staff members.

BUSINESS STAFF

The Greetings is not exempt from the financial worries which beset most organizations, and we found Laurette Gilbert and her staff devoting their interests and service to keeping the headaches at a minimum. Specific staff activities included the selling of advertising space to local tradespeople, the selling of newspaper subscriptions and both the collecting and the paying of bills. This group was also responsible for the campus distribution of the Greetings and for its exchange service with other colleges.

Margarite Zickos has been in charge of the advertising, and Joan Berg has been responsible for the exchange service. Another position of importance was held by Frances Lang, who worked as circulation manager. Assistants to the advertising manager were Joan Engeswick, Mildred Moss, and LaRue White.

To show each girl on campus the need of widened spiritual understanding, and to make every girl aware that she is a true member of the organization with talents, suggestions, or services to contribute to its function has been the dual purpose of YWCA for the year. Those who carried these aims to fulfillment were Carolyn Carver, president; Martha Irwin, vice-president; Mary Dasher, secretary; and Willa Wirth, treasurer. The YW, co-operating with the denominational groups, introduced each student to the churches of Jacksonville on the first few Sundays of the year. Activities of the year which promoted the international purpose were the recognition service, which introduced the student body to the large international organization, the WSSF drive, and the Easter and Holy Week services. To bring about the local purpose of the organization, MacMurray's YWCA was sponsor for the Christmas Table candles, caroling, Heart Sister Week, Thanksgiving baskets for the needy, and an Easter party for underprivileged children. A fitting conclusion for the year was the annual inspirational retreat at the cabin for the outgoing and the newly-elected cabinets.

ART DEPARTMENT

MacMurray's Art Department yearly gains new distinction on campus and continues to grow in size and the scope of work done. Following the custom of exhibiting their work, these artists presented exhibitions in the library and in Main Hall Social Room. One of these showings featured Freshman drawings, and an especially noteworthy exhibition was that of the work of Miss Ruth Gay, Associate Professor of Art. In view of the fact that the present art studio in Music Hall seems now too small to house the department comfortably, plans have been made to open the Art Annex for use next year. The department also hails the advent of a new instructor—Miss Margaret Collins, who is a 1945 graduate of MacMurray.

MACMURRAY PLAYERS AND PLAYERS GUILD

The loss of the MacMurray College Little Theater for practical work, and the destruction of all equipment, threatened the abandonment of plans for dramatic productions during the year. However, two new dramatic organizations of the campus, the MacMurray Players and the Players' Guild, affiliated for the first time with the National Collegiate Players, surmounted this difficulty and brought an exceedingly successful series of productions to campus audiences. The presentations for the year included "The Comedy of Errors", "Nine Girls", "Meet the Wife", and "Our Town". Helen Crosby served as president of the Guild; and Jo Cody, of the Players. Professor Ray E. Holcombe was the adviser of both groups.

Under the chairmanship of Mildred Moss, the War Council promoted the sale of war stamps and bonds on campus, thus providing a way for MacMurray students to help their country at war. Their specific goal this year has been the purchase of a bomber through war stamp sales. To approach this objective, a special drive was held at Thanksgiving time, and in coordination, a search was made for the Bomber Beauty Queen—Phyllis Cooper was elected to this honor. The Red Cross, interested in the humane services needed especially in wartime, has functioned capably under the guidance of Barbara Taylor and as a complete unit under the Morgan County Chapter. The annual Red Cross Membership Drive exceeded its quota to reach the final sum of $1401.16.

ALPHA KAPPA SIGMA

MacMurray's freshman societies embody our characteristic friendly spirit and are the nucleus out of which it is born. The purposes of these societies are to further the individual interests of the members in varied fields, to offer opportunities in group social experiences, and to promote among the members the qualities of loyalty, friendship, and service. To bring these purposes to a successful culmination for the six societies, a uniform program of activities was planned under the direction of Mrs. Roma N. Hawkins, society adviser, and the society sponsors: Maurine Jackson, Delta Theta Nu; Celeste Quick, Phi Tau Epsilon; Helen Huston, Kappa Sigma Theta; Marjorie Danforth, Alpha Kappa Sigma; Dorothy Stonecipher, Epsilon Kappa Phi; Mildred Moss, Phi Kappa Delta.

The first item on this program was a coke party and get-together in the Hub for the freshman class. This mixer spirit was also carried over into the first meetings of the individual societies such as the overnight trip to the P. E. cabin for Phi Tau, a wiener roast at Nichols Park for Delta Theta Nu and Kappa Sigma Theta members, and a picnic for the Alpha Kappa Sigmas.

DELTA THETA NU

In order that each girl will have the experience of attending and helping plan a formal occasion, each freshman society gave a faculty coffee, which was preceded by a formal dinner in McClelland Hall. The experience gained through participation in these events carries through for the many coffees which are an integral part of MacMurray's life. Chairmen for the freshman-faculty coffees were Epsilon Kappa Phi, Mary Mallers; Kappa Sigma Theta, Ruth Gehl; Phi Tau Epsilon, Beverly Juhl; Phi Kappa Delta, Dorothy Brotherson; Alpha Kappa Sigma, Dorothy Armitage; and Delta Theta Nu, Margaret Carlyon.

Many informal parties were given during the year, and these tended to bring society and class members closer together. At a gymnasium open house, the Alpha Kappa Sigmas were hostesses to the Kappa Sigma Thetas. On November 12, Phi Tau Epsilon chose the Dunlap Hotel for a "get-acquainted" breakfast; and on the same day this popular eating spot was the scene of a Delta Theta Nu supper.

One of the most important activities of the freshman groups is the freshman one-act play contest. To the society-winner of this competition a silver cup is awarded. The plays are comedies and the presentation of each is made as simple and uniform as possible, so that the acting will be the chief basis for judging. The plays are directed by the Directing class of the Speech Department under the tutelage of Dr. Ray Holcombe. Kappa Sigma Theta's production, "Green Eyes From Romany", won the coveted cup this year, and was directed by Dorothy Chaney with Jane Shannon assisting. Joyce Nebergall as Winnie won honorable mention for her individual performance. Second place winner, just a hair's breadth beneath first place, was "The Decoy", directed by Alice Gould with Dawn

Esther Singer directed "Uplifting Sadie" for Phi Kappa Delta. The assistant director was Charlene Hext, and Eileen Huebner, as Sadie, received honorable mention. Alpha Kappa Sigma gave "A Domestic Episode", which was directed by Marjory

Participation in these productions is often a great step toward further work on the Little Theater stage and is therefore accepted enthusiastically.

Society banquets were the last social activity for the societies, and two or three of the organizations held their functions together. By organizing these banquets, the society members learned the

BELLES LETTRES

"For good or for better, we take thee, O Belles Lettres", contemplated B. L. rushees last September, when in "Harvest Time" they found themselves entertained at a "Jean Jamboree". Carrying out the theme of "Shine on Harvest Moon", the formal dinner dance at the Dunlap Hotel marked another evening of rush-season gaiety. The twenty-five pledges gleaned from this rushing season were pinned at a formal initiation on October 1, and later entertained the actives at a Hallowe'en party in the Hub, at which original skits were the highlights. Participating in the annual YW-ACE Christmas Bazaar, the society sold jot pads and MacMurray pencils. The society's Christmas time serenade was led by Virginia Reese.

Under the chairmanship of Margaret Sloan, B. L.'s presented "Belles a Hoppin'" on March 7 at their Open Meeting, which was followed by the annual alumnae coffee in the society hall. Presentation of silver bracelets to departing seniors and the alumnae banquet in the spring crowned the year's activities when the sorores sang together, "And honor thee well, O glorious B. L."

LAMBDA ALPHA MU

"Let us sing of somewhat nobler things; let us seek a higher strain", recited each pledge at her formal initiation last fall. Alice Godard and Phyllis Smith planned the rush parties on a nautical theme which featured a Pirates' Treasure Hunt and a formal Captain's Dinner. Directed by Doris Green and Lystie Lyster, the Open Meeting, held on November 8, revealed the Lambdas' "Suppressed Desires" before they entertained alumnae and honorary members at a coffee. Eileen Olson supervised the revision of the constitution, and Kay Francis had charge of selling yarn poodle dogs at the Christmas Bazaar. The spring banquet was the climax of a busy year, when the sisters joined again in their friendship circle to sing, "So here's to our Lambda Alpha Mu."

"We're glad we have the girls we do in dear Phi Nu", they sang after last fall's rushing. Marilyn Manske and Phyllis Metz planned the formal dinner dance and the afternoon "coke-tail" party at the Dunlap Hotel on a "Cover Girl" theme. Friendship rings and clipboards were sold at the Christmas Bazaar. Silver friendship bracelets were given the Seniors. "Barefoot Girl with Lip", presented at the Open Meeting on Valentine's Day, was directed by Pat Miller. THETA SIGMA

"I want to be a Theta girl, and I want no mare", typifies the feelings of this society's loyal members. Adapting as their rush theme, "Theta Breaks All Records", captains Virginia Ringhausen and Barbara Vedder planned a breakfast held in Jane Hall smoker, and a formal dinner at the Dunlap Hotel. Soon after initiation, the Thetas enjoyed their first activity of their year—breakfast at the Dunlap, after which they attended church in a group. Bulletin boards and felt articles were sold at the YW-ACE Christmas Bazaar booth. Arranged by Barbara Taylor, the pledges entertained the actives at a "Baby Party" in the gym. Jack Cady directed the Open Meeting during which the Thetas leafed through their magazine "Vague". Silver friendship bracelets were given to the seniors, and the year's activities came to a close with the annual alumnae banquet from which still echo the strains, "You girls belong to Theta, and Theta belongs to you."

INTERSOCIETY COUNCIL

In order that the activities and purposes of the four upperclass societies may be coordinated and regulated, the Intersociety Council functions to consider all intersociety problems. The president and the vice-president of each society compose the membership of the group, which is advised by Dean Roma N. Hawkins. Specific activities of the year 1944-45 include the organization of fall and mid-year rushing and the sponsorship of an intersociety party to bring about closer bonds of fellowship between the four societies. The custom of presenting society open-meetings was instituted again this year to make possible the acquaintance of new students with the talent and members of each group. This year's president of the Council has been Peg Smith of Lambda Alpha Mu, and Natacha Pehlman of Theta Sigma has acted as secretary.

BAND

Claiming the double distinction of being one of the few all-women concert bands and the only girl's marching band in the country, the MacMurray College group holds an important place in campus activities. Adding quality to distinction, the group maintains a full concert-band instrumentation which makes it possible for them to cover the entire range of band literature. The highlight of the band's year is its annual concert, held this year on March 28, in conjunction with Dads' Day festivities. Included also on its yearly calendar is a concert for Commencement week; and it provides musical pep, color, and enjoyment at student assemblies, rallies, and athletic events when needed. The fifty members meet twice weekly at regular rehearsals through which they learn to blend their various talents and instrumental tones into one unified, composite strain. Miss Dorothy Stonecipher, first clarinetist, is the concertmistress of the band, and Mr. Austin Garrels serves as director.

MADRIGAL

Under the direction of Mrs. Ann McCloskey, and with its membership open to all students of MacMurray, the Madrigal Club rightfully claims a designation as one of the major musical organizations on campus. Most of the Madrigal members are freshmen, who find the club an ideal way to broaden their interclass acquaintanceship, as well as a constructive outlet for their musical talent. Among the activities of the group has been its participation in the Christmas and Easter vesper services and in some of the college radio broadcasts. Officers of the organization for this last year were Carol Roy, president; Dorothy Brotherson, vice-president; Doris Cooley, secretary-treasurer; Ruth Holden, librarian; Gloria Bimrose, publicity director; and Mary Spreen, social chairman.

CHOIR

This year for the first time membership in the choir has been open to all students of MacMurray. Most outstanding is this group's contribution to the weekly chapel services, although choral music is also provided for such occasions as Founders' Day, Commencement services, and Christmas and Easter Vespers. On April 20 the annual College Choir concert was presented in Music Hall. Recordings of familiar scores were made and sold to the student body. The choir was under the direction of Mr. Austin Garrels; officers for the year were Kathleen Hempler, president; Dorothy Chaney, secretary; Doris Green, librarian; and Lucille Sommer, publicity chairman.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

MacMurray's International Relations Club, subsidized by the Carnegie Institute, draws its membership from upperclassmen. However, this year the club became the parent of a freshman IRC, sponsored by Lue Sommer. On April 4, MacMurray was hostess to the Illinois College IRC at a local institute to replace the Midwestern conference canceled by transportation conditions. Weekly news round-ups were another important contribution to MacMurray's program. The officers of the year were president, Betty Stanford; vice-president, Barbara Stuhler; secretary, Margaret Francisco; treasurer, Christine Callahan; and adviser, Professor Walter Hendrickson.

SCRIBBLERS

Holding as its purpose the stimulation of interest and practice in creative writing among its members and on the campus, Scribblers' Club fills a vital need in the extracurricular program of MacMurray. Membership in the group is determined by semester tryouts for which prospective members may enter poems, stories, essays, or dramatic scripts to undergo consideration and evaluation by the active Scribblers. During the year frequent manuscript meetings are held in order that members may read their work aloud and receive the criticism of the group. Scribblers' Christmas cards for 1944, designed by Natacha Pehlman and using Margrette Lyman's poem, were sold at the YW-ACE bazaar with Jane Shannon in charge of their preparation and distribution. Under the co-chairmanship of Marion Collins and Ann Lippincott, the Scribblers' Open Meeting, entitled "Versity Varsity", was held April 3 in the Social Room. The prize-winning articles from the annual all-school literary contest held in the spring were published in Inkspirations, of which Janet Browning was in charge this year. In 1944-45 Alice Gould headed the club as president and Lystie Lyster and Jan Truby, respectively, were vice-president and secretary-treasurer. Professor Dorothy Burrows acted as adviser.

The MacMurray Association for Childhood Education is one of eight branches of the Illinois ACE, and is likewise affiliated with the national organization. Although this group draws most of its members from the kindergarten-primary majors on campus, anyone interested in childhood education is welcome to join. Under the capable direction of President Betty Benz, Vice-President Willa Wirth, Secretary Elaine Jackson, and Treasurer Virginia Smith the ACE formally began its subsequently very successful year with a tea given for the new members. In cooperation with the YWCA the club sponsored the Christmas bazaar. Another Christmas custom observed was the annual party given by Miss Gwendolyn Addenbrooke, the group's adviser. On April 20, children of the kindergarten presented their annual operetta, which was directed by the practice teachers of the club, and soon thereafter a breakfast given in honor of the senior members "topped off" the year's activities.

JACKSONVILLE CLUB

The first meeting of the Town Girls' Club took the form of a picnic at the P. E. cabin, and was planned by Blanche Eades for the new freshman members. Next on the group's calendar for the year was a Christmas party in charge of Co-chairmen Betty Rogers and Betty Lonergan. President and Mrs. McClelland, Dr. and Mrs. Dying, Miss Mary Baird, and Mrs. Roma Hawkins were invited to this party as guests of the club. Claiming the Town House (or the Corner Cupboard, as it is sometimes called) as their headquarters, the town girls also claimed as officers Blanche Eades, president; June DeFreitas, vice-president; Martha Spink, secretary; Kay Toussaint, treasurer; Marjorie Stout, program chairman; and Kay Hunter, A.A. representative. TIRONIAN CLUB

Business Administration majors and minors who meet with Professor Frances Whitehead, comprise the membership of the Tironian Club. La Rue White, president, gave a silver cup for presentation to the freshman who has the highest grades in the department each semester of each calendar year. Programs for the year included speakers from the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, a cabin party, and the annual formal banquet, developed on the traditional Irish theme. Through these programs were carried out the dual purposes of the club—promotion of interest in the business world and the engendering of a social spirit among its members. Assisting Miss White as officers were Laurretta Gilbert, vice-president; Hazel Matsui, secretary; and Joan Berg, treasurer.

The Home Economics majors on MacMurray campus have joined together in their common interest to form the Home Economics Club and, in this union, to create also a feeling of congeniality and friendship. Programs at the monthly meetings included movie-parties, talks by off-campus speakers, and a Christmas party. For the YW-ACE Christmas bazaar the Home Ec girls sponsored a food booth which was in charge of Sue Ward and Doris Neumann. A highlight of the club's activities was the open meeting and coffee on March 15; the climax of the year was the breakfast, for senior members, which was held at the Dunlap Hotel in May. Audra Nienhiser served the club as president, assisted by vice-president Jean Valentine, secretary Marilee Cowgur, and treasurer Doris Neumann. Professor Amanda Rosenquist was the club's adviser.

THE A. A. BOARD

The Athletic Association Board, with Professor Elizabeth Rearick, its adviser, holds as its purposes the promotion of high standards of sportsmanship on MacMurray campus and the coordination of AA activities. To further the former aim, the AA instigated the custom of awarding a trophy to the senior girl best exemplifying the ideal. The Elizabeth Rearick sportsmanship trophy was awarded this year to Dorothy Mary Chaney. The officers of the Athletic Association, together with the class and town girls' representatives, comprise the membership of the board. For the year 1944-45, Anne Ingram, president of the association, headed the AA Board.

THE A. A. COUNCIL

Vice-prexy Mory Huntoon.

One of the most active and best organized groups on campus is the Athletic Association Council under the capable leadership of A. A. vice-president Mary Huntoon. Composed of all the campus sports managers in the A. A. program, the council works directly under the Athletic Association board in organizing and coordinating the various competitive and individual types of physical recreation carried on throughout the year.

Miss Spencer.

THE P. E. CLUB

Claiming for membership only those students who major or minor in the field of physical instruction, the Physical Education Club is organized for the prime purpose of promoting better individual health conditions, and also, of fostering among MacMurray students a greater interest in clean living and a worthy use of leisure time. Probably the most momentous project of the club's year was the presentation of the annual "Club 13", held in McClelland Hall on November 7, and for which June Hauer and Dorothy Chaney served as co-chairmen. The officers of the club for 1944-45 were Mary Huntoon, president; Betty Emerson, vice-president; Kay Potter, secretary and cabin chairman; Marilyn Coolidge, treasurer; and Dorothy Chaney, social chairman.

THE MACMURRAY RIDING CLUB

A selected group of outstanding student riders comprise the membership of the MacMurray Riding Club, which is under the instruction of Miss Doris Greenwalt. The purpose of the club is to promote interest in riding and to give those who are already interested a chance to learn more of the riding art. A new feature introduced this year is gaited riding, which adds much to the versatility of the club members' achievements. Competitive field action has always been a prominent activity of the club, and annual meets are held with Lindenwood and Monticello. Intramurals are also featured between the first and second team of MacMurray, each team consisting of six members who are chosen from the group on the basis of their riding skill.

The members of the first team are Hope Ayrault, Natacha Pehlman, Elizabeth Magnunson, Velma Snyder, Martha Kley Meyer, and Mary Lemon. The second team members are Shirley Bacher, Beverly Stockho, Celeste Quick, Betty Rowden, Helen Fortinberry, and Mary Ann Wierman. Hope Ayrault presided as president, with Helen Fortinberry assisting as vice-president and Helen Huston and Mariellen Dunnington as secretary and treasurer, respectively; Elizabeth Magnunson has been team manager; and Judith Marston, Athletic Association representative.

THE MACQUATICS CLUB

The Macquatics Club always adds a big "splash" to campus activities, and during this past year the club has also added fourteen new members to help make the "splash" greater. Macquatics' swimmers are usually chosen at fall tryouts where the active club members judge them as to their ability, their prospects of improvement, and their interest in swimming, although a few new members may sometimes be taken into the club on the basis of the work they do in the water show. In December an interclass tourney was held, and many swimmers from each class entered the racing and diving competition. The sophomore class won this meet, but won over the freshmen by only one-half point. Shirley Verstegen (sophomore) and Nancy Nelson (freshman) set new speed records for the breast stroke and free style, respectively, at the tourney. The most important event of each year is the watershow held on Dads' Day. "Holiday for Strokes", the 1945 production, featured float patterns, diving, various strokes, harmony and specialty numbers and was under the direction of Sally Royal, the swimming manager. Jeanne K. Stein was president of the club, assisted by Beatrice Person, vice-president; Shirley Koeneman, treasurer; and Carol Hedman, secretary. The adviser is Miss Carrie Spencer.

MACMURRAY VARSITY HOCKEY TEAM

A season of marvelous playing weather enhanced the enjoyment of the inter-class sports competition in field hockey last autumn. The traditional Army-Navy hockey game of 1944 came to an exciting climax with the Navy team, comprised of seniors and sophomores, triumphing over the Army's juniors and freshmen by a score of 5-2. Referees were Miss Helen Mahany and Mrs. Peggy Mosby. Thus ended the hockey season of 1944, which formally closed when the varsity hockey team was chosen from the Army-Navy players. These girls were chosen not only for their excellent playing ability but for their good sportsmanship on and off the field as well. Selected for the 1944 team were: Anne Ingram, Rita Sve, Frances Price, Mary Huntoon, Esther Singer, Irma Rinker, Dorothy Fullmer, Joan Daker, Elaine Jackson, Joyce Truckenbrod, Betty Emerson, Frances Nash, and Mary Mittelstaed. Although the girls comprising the varsity hockey team never played together as a single unit, their outstanding abilities—coordinated in a united team effort—would have made them a power to be feared by the most worthy opponent. Barbara Stuhler proved a very capable hockey manager, and with the help of Miss Mahany, the adviser, the hockey season of 1944 scored another success in fun, skillful playing and good sportsmanship on the part of players and spectators alike.

MACMURRAY VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Each year superior players from the Army and Navy basketball teams are chosen as members of the all-school varsity squad. The selection of this team is, however, the formal end of the basketball season. First in the line of events is the interclass tournament, won by the Freshmen this year, who suffered defeat in none of their games. Following the tournament an Army team (comprised of Juniors and Freshmen) and a Navy team (comprised of Seniors and Sophomores) played against each other in the traditional Army-Navy game. The contest was an exciting one and ended with the final score of 15-14 in the Army's favor. At the end-of-season table parties in McClelland Hall, Miss Carrie Spencer, basketball adviser, announced the names of the Varsity stars, each of whom was introduced individually and compared with an essential part of a horseshoe—which Miss Spencer used as the symbol of the team unit. The girls thus named were Esther Singer, Betty Emerson, June Hauer, Mary Huntoon, Philna Jacobi, Ruth Henika, Jean Daker, Irma Rinker and Jayce Truckenbrod. Miss Spencer also introduced Helen Hustan, the season's manager. After announcement of the Varsity team, basketball stepped out of the spotlight to make way for outdoor spring activities.
